AFFIRMING THE DIGNITY
OF THE HUMAN PERSON

WHAT DO WE DO?

The University of Toronto Students for Life works to educate and inform the students and faculty at the University of Toronto on current life issues. These issues include fetal rights, euthanasia, stem cell research and reproductive technologies. The following is a list of events and activities that UTSFL has organized and held over the past years.

- Guest lecturers to speak on current life issues
- Postering campaigns that help raise awareness and promote discussion
- Information tables with resources to help educate and inform
- Public Demonstrations to engage the campus at large
- Social evenings (i.e. pub nights, pizza dinners, movie nights) — a relaxed way to meet new people and celebrate life

WHY IS IT IMPORTANT?

The university is the place where the ideas and values of our society take root. These ideals often fail to recognize the value and dignity of human life. An active pro-life presence is needed to promote ideas and values that embrace the objective truth that all human life is worthy of protection.

It is on our own university campus that we are able to actively participate in building a culture of life by encouraging discussion and education on life issues.

Secondly, students who are concerned and wish to do their part in promoting life can often feel alone, helpless and isolated. UTSFL brings student life advocates together so people with similar values and beliefs can meet. Together we can make a difference!
